it is interesting to note that the carnosic acid active in rosemary helps protect against cellular and brain damage inflicted by free radicals