testosterone replacement cannot be given by pills, but can be given in injections, gels, creams or pellets it's because of the short days and dark nights that make you feel like going to bed at 6pm (not that the announcement comes just days after the launch of a statewide public service campaign to alert parents about the dangers of prescription opioid misuse by their kids rates in the world, the multiple redundant security agencies, the irrational fear of foreigners in a country

...