specifically memory learning and concentration, and results support the traditional ayurvedic claims.

It performs a cleansing of the body and its tissues and organs.

Maybe they are intellectually lazy and want someone to blame instead of looking into specifics.

For example, a lag time between the denaturation temperature and the annealing temperature can result in unspecific annealing.