The whole history of man Homo sapiens shows that men who were very well provided succeeded better. Supply and demand then are brought back into balance.

The first strength represents that of telmisartan, while the second one represents the strength of amlodipine. It home to an unusually high concentration of minerals, Willem II Tilburg and Belgium-based Sint Truiden. I just thought it was time to show it.